

SEXTON ON SKILLS

Manager Dave Sexton and Britain's top sports artist, Trevillion, combine to produce an exciting visual appraisal of Chelsea's players. Today's star:

EDDIE McCREADIE

WATCH for the two-footedness of Eddie McCreadie, who is exceptionally good at carrying the ball forward into our opponents' half of the field. On crossing the halfway line McCreadie has two choices—he can either go down the left wing to the line and, with his LEFT FOOT, hit a hard low cross to the near post (in the space between their defenders and the goal) for our forwards to run onto.

OR he can cut inside and then, if challenged, he can chip the ball RIGHT FOOT to the far post for one of our big fellows up front to head at goal.

Alternatively, if there's space he will carry the ball to the edge of the box and have a RIGHT FOOT shot at goal.?
