THE TALK OF STAMFORD BRIDGE

WITH opponents Leeds United heading the table, we should have our best home attendance this afternoon since 34,067 saw us play Burnley on the season's opening day, and after two successive home defeats—without a Chelsea goal to cheer in either—we urgently need a “best performance” to match. The four points dropped in those fixtures prevent us being at the top with Leeds, but fortunately we continue to bring home the spoils from other grounds, and last Saturday's victory over Sheffield United made us the first club to score five away League wins this season.

New Stand: Today, our new West Stand comes into use—partial use, that is—for the first time, with approximately 1,500 of the total 6,000 seats installed. You can see what good progress is being made between each match, and more 10/- seats, as well as those at 15/- in the centre, will be on sale as they become available. Meanwhile, we hope patrons will appreciate that the approaches to the West Stand are, of necessity, in a far from finished condition, and until completion we advise that extra care should be taken approaching and leaving that side of the ground.

Wiener Arrangements: Supporters' Club secretary Mick Mears is organising an air charter in connection with our Inter-Cities Fairs Cup second round (first leg) tie in Vienna on Wednesday week, November 17. Details are available after today's match at the Development Association Office (in the main office block) or by telephone from Mr. Mears at Howard 6901 (evenings only).

The second leg will be played at Stamford Bridge on Tuesday, November 30, and ordinary League prices will be charged, with Stand tickets as follows: Blocks A & H & North Stand 7/6, B & G 10/-, C & F 12/6, D & E 15/-. Season-ticket holders are reminded that their tickets are not valid, and that they have until Saturday next in which to reserve their own seats. They should apply by post, quoting seat numbers and enclosing remittance and addressed envelope for return.

Absentees: Ron Harris, out since the Blackpool game with a ham-string injury, faces three more weeks on the sidelines after a breakdown in training on Monday. Meanwhile, he is spending a few days with brother Alan at Coventry. Eddie Mc-

Creadie, who began 14 days' suspension on Monday—a sequel to the Roma match here—will be available for our Inter-Cities Fairs Cup tie against Wiener S.C. in Vienna.

Bobby's Comeback: After his lay-off through injury, Bobby Tambling returned to action last Saturday and scored the goal in our 1-0 Football Combination win at home to West Ham. He will be glad of a quick goal on his return to First Division football, having waited on the 99 League goals mark since August 25.

Congratulations . . . to John Hollins on his selection for the England Under-23 side against France at Norwich on Wednesday. It was his fourth Under-23 appearance. Terry Venables was also selected but had to withdraw because of the ankle injury which caused him to leave the field at Sheffield last Saturday.

Signed: Alan Nelmes, a 17-year-old full-back from Thornton Heath, has signed as a professional. He was previously with Crystal Palace and, on being released by them at the end of last season, joined our Juniors during the summer.

Transferred: Inside-forward Jim McCalliog was transferred to Sheffield Wednesday last Friday, and at the same time we released his younger brother Frank from an apprentice contract. We wish them well at Hillsborough.

Ideal Gift: Youth coach Frank Blunstone has the ideal Christmas gift for young Chelsea fans (aged 7-14) at his sports goods shop. It's the "Chelsea Gift Pack", containing the complete playing strip in the style worn by Chelsea: Royal blue jersey, royal blue shorts and white socks. The sets are priced as follows: For ages 7-9, 32/6; ages 9-12, 33/9, youths 12-14, 34/11. The "C.F.C." shirt badge is available for 2/6 extra, and numbers for shorts for 2/-. The gift pack is on sale today at the Supporters' Club stall adjoining the East Stand, or by post from Blunstone Sports, 7 Lavender Hill, Battersea, S.W.11 (phone: Battersea 4007/8).

FRONT COVER SHOT

THE penalty we did not get against Sheffield United last Saturday. With the goal at his mercy, Peter Osgood is tripped from behind, but our appeals were turned down.

No Bookings: Stand tickets are not sold in advance by our next two away match opponents, West Ham (Saturday next) and Aston Villa on November 27, but will be available on the day at those grounds.

Permit: Coach Jimmy Andrews has been registered as a "permit player" by the Football Association, making three such permit-holders at Chelsea. The others: Tommy Docherty and Tommy Harmer.

Today's Band: The South London Girl Pipers are here to play for you again today. Welcome back to Stamford Bridge, girls.

"Sammy" Sequel: "Sammy's Dead" was reinstated as our signature tune at the last home game. Afterwards, a supporter handed in a record called "Sammy No Dead" and we hope to play it some time this afternoon.

TWO MORE POINTS AWAY: OSGOOD'S

Peter Bonetti dives the right way, but a penalty by Sheffield United's Docherty is in the net and we are one down.

George Graham outjumps Matthewson, goalkeeper Hodgkinson and our own centre-half Allan Young, and heads the equaliser.

FIRST LEAGUE GOAL IS A WINNER

Another one goes past Hodgkinson and into the net, but it's disappointment for Joe Fascione. The goal was disallowed for offside.

From Barry Bridges' pass, Peter Osgood makes no mistake. It's his first goal in League football, and cracks Sheffield United's unbeaten home record.

HE'S IN CHARGE

MR. KEN DAGNALL, a 44-year-old housing officer from Bolton, is one of the most experienced referees on the Football League list. He was appointed in 1955, so is now in his 11th season. He began his career in the Lancashire Combination.

Mr. Dagnall was elected to the International panel of referees four years ago, and his most recent big-match appointment was Sweden v. West Germany in the World Cup qualifying round in September.

Commentaries on all first team matches are relayed to local hospitals by members of Chelsea TOC H.

MEET MESSRS. GRATERON — BESPOKE TAILORS

Terry Venables, Ron Harris and George Graham are now in partnership in the bespoke tailoring business, with West End premises on the first floor at 40 Old Compton Street, W.1, just off Shaftesbury Avenue. Our picture shows Tommy Docherty and tailor-director (and Chelsea fan) Tom Barclay with them at the opening ceremony of "Grateron" – a combination of the principals' names – and if you want to look as "sharp" as they do, you now know where to call.

ABOUT OUR VISITORS

GARETH SPRAKE, goalkeeper of Championship leaders Leeds United, has come a long way since being introduced to first-team football when only 16 in March 1962. He has made a name as one of the best young goalkeepers in the country, and looks certain to be a regular choice for Wales (seven caps) as well as for his club for a long time to come.

Right-back Paul Reaney, though born in London, has played all his football with Leeds, and is another of their younger players with a bright future. He is an England Under-23 cap.

Willie Bell recently returned at left-back after missing nine games through a knee injury. He joined Leeds from Queen's Park, with whom he won Scottish amateur honours.

Another Scot, Billy Bremner, was originally a forward. It is as an attacking right-half, however, that he has really made his name, following appearances for Scotland Under-23's with full international honours.

Jack Charlton, who comes from Ashington, Northumberland, won the first of his seven full England caps against Scotland in April. At the start of this season, his 13th with Leeds, he had played 354 League games.

Left-half Norman Hunter has gained England Under-23 and Football League recognition, which could well be the forerunners of full international honours. He comes from Middlesbrough, and joined the Leeds staff in 1962.

Signed from Airdriconians in 1962, Jim Storr has played in every forward position except inside-left, and has been a consistent marksman. He did not appear this season until last month, when he was recalled following the serious injury to Bobby Collins.

Peter Lorimer, former Scottish school-boy international from Dundee, made his debut for Leeds at the age of 15 in September 1962, being the youngest player ever to appear in their first team.

England centre-forward Alan Peacock came into prominence with his home-town club, Middlesbrough, and was transferred to Leeds in February 1964. He unluckily missed most of last winter with a knee injury.

The switch of John Giles from outside-right to inside-left is not surprising, for he began his career as an inside-forward. He gained Eire honours while with Manchester United, with whom he spent five years before joining Leeds in August 1963.

Latest addition to the Leeds playing strength is England left-winger Mike O'Grady, signed from Huddersfield on October 15. In making this move he joined his home-town club after six years with Huddersfield.

THEIR MANAGER

BEFORE transfer fees soared to their present level, more money changed hands over DON REVIE than any other player. Starting his career with Leicester City (whom he helped to reach the F.A. Cup Final in 1949, though missing Wembley through injury), he later played for Hull City, Manchester City—where he had a tactical forward plan named after him—Sunderland and Leeds. He signed for Leeds in 1958 and was appointed player-manager in March 1961, on the resignation of Mr. Jack Taylor. He gave up playing 12 months later. Last weekend Don Revie underwent an appendicitis operation, and we wish him a speedy return to fitness and football.

THEIR MARKSMEN

League: Peacock 8, Lorimer 6, Bremner 3, Charlton 2, Cooper 2, Hunter 2, Storr 2, Bell 1, Madeley 1, O'Grady 1, Opponent 1. Total 29.

League Cup: Belfitt 2, Cooper 1, Johnson 1, Madeley 1, Storr 1. Total 6.

IN OFF THE POST

Your letters should be of not more than 150 words and addressed to "In off the Post", Chelsea F.C., Fulham Road, London, S.W.6.

LETTERS OPENED BY PROGRAMME EDITOR, ALBERT SEWELL

I FIND Mr. Docherty's reported criticism of the Chelsea fans very surprising, coming from a man of his integrity.

The fact that we pay our money at the turnstile gives us a right to criticize the team. If the "useless" fans stay away the club ceases to exist.

I would suggest that due to the press Mr. Docherty's statement has received, a lot of bad feeling is liable to exist with the fans, so how about an explanation through the medium of the programme?

E. H. Gould.

Walworth, S.E.17.

THE Fans: "They are a waste of time—useless. I wish we could play all our matches away." If this is correctly quoted as coming from Manager Tommy Docherty—good enough. I heartily agree!

The present junior members of our club who are being given their chance, have a right to expect respect from supporters.

Mr. Docherty is working on the right lines, and to all the other potential managers in the crowd I say—be fair.

D. Austin.

"Southview", 40, Amberley Drive,
Goring-by-Sea,
W. Sussex.

TO say that the Chelsea crowd are useless is the worst public relations I have read.

You give us good football and the crowd will give you all the cheers and support you need, as was proved with the Roma game. Mr. Docherty was so impressed then with the cheering supporters that he thanked them publicly.

Fans are only interested in success and if you can't produce it—BUY IT!

W. Goldsmith.

25, Ward Street,
Lambeth, S.E.11.

THE "Doc" has now opened up what has long been a controversial point at the "Bridge"—the crowd. I side with his opinion.

A team rely on the crowd to give them support, even if they are losing. So come on you 29,000-odd, shrug off the staleness and encourage your team.

A Fulham Road end Supporter.

TOMMY DOCHERTY is going too far when he says that there are only about 200 loyal Chelsea supporters. But I think the worst offenders, who persist in criticism of our players, are men in the age group 35-50.

They never cheer or even applaud good moves and are of no use to a go-ahead young side like Chelsea. Perhaps one day they will wake up and realise that this team they are supposedly supporting has the mark of true greatness.

I am 16, a fanatical supporter and I never miss a game.

B. E. Mayhew.

26, Sandlands Road,
Walton-on-the-hill,
Surrey.

MR. DOCHERTY'S remarks on the crowd's behaviour are extremely true. Perhaps the so called fans have a right to jeer, but they are certainly not true supporters.

If a crowd is behind a team, the team's talents are increased beyond recognition. Surely this was proved against Roma.

As far as I am concerned, Chelsea gave enough entertainment last season to last this season and the next, so why don't we Chelsea supporters repay the club by cheering and not jeering, and let's get out of this rut, so that we can remain a great club.

David Farren.

Blackheath, S.E.3.

AS one of Mr. Docherty's selfish supporters, who pays 8/- each match to see his team play and, I hope, win, I wonder what he thinks the supporters are made of—stone?

Surely we cannot all be wrong when we voice our opinions!

R. Tully.

Northolt, Greenford,
Middlesex.

I AGREE with Mr. Docherty that a certain section of the Chelsea crowd are useless to the club and I deplored their attitude as the players trooped off the field after the Leicester City match.

Some of the younger Chelsea players knew they had had a bad game without being subjected to such treatment.

I am afraid I am not one of the 200 whom Mr. Docherty refers to as being the best Chelsea fans by reason of the fact that I have to travel at least 70 miles to games at Stamford Bridge, and can never travel away by reason of my occupational shift work, so Tommy, I really do believe your remarks about Chelsea supporters are inaccurate to some degree.

H. E. A. Flower.

21, Stone Barn Avenue,
Birchington, Kent.

FELLOW Chelsea supporters: As you know, Chelsea have won only one game at home, and for a great team such as the "Blues", it is a bad record. But don't blame the players, blame yourselves for Chelsea would surely win if you give them the support they need.

There are only a few hundred behind the Fulham Road end goal who are willing to shout and sing all through the match.

So why don't you all sing and cheer, and spur the team to victory?

Brian Collumbell.

Walworth, S.E.17.
