

In off the post

Your letters should be of not more than 150 words and addressed to "In off the Post", Chelsea F.C., Fulham Road, London, S.W.6.

THANK YOU, "ST. JOHN"

By the time you receive this letter I shall be home after 14 weeks in hospital, but I would, through your programme, like to thank so sincerely the St. John Ambulance men who attended me back in March and asked—or made me promise—to see my Doctor.

I have been a supporter for many years (long before Billy Birrell's time as manager) and I have often seen the St. John bustling around, but had never had reason to call on them.

I cannot tell you how much kindness, concern and attention was shown me. Had they not been so dedicated I may not have been here to write this letter. Soon I will be able to watch the Blues again, but I will also watch for that "white collection sheet" coming around.

I thank them all so much again.

My regards to Flo' (Ladies), Mr. Meadows, Arthur (on the gate), "Ginger" and Co.—hope to see you all very soon.

Mrs. Pat Nolan.

● It will be nice to see you back at The Bridge, Pat—and on behalf of the St. John Ambulance Brigade thanks for those words of praise which they always so richly deserve.

MESSAGE TO SCARF-STEALER

WHILE attending the Sheffield United v. Chelsea match I had my scarf stolen by one of my fellow Chelsea supporters, because as he said, "he was collecting them." I write in the hope that he will be sportsman enough to post it back to me.

RED FACES ALL ROUND

LAST year I had the good fortune to win for myself and a friend a trip to Mexico. During our stay in Guadalajara we met an English girl, who was then living in California, and we pointed out the various football celebrities, including Dave Sexton.

At the end of last season I was at The Bridge with a couple of mates and the same girl we had met in Mexico.

The teams were out and just lining up for the start of the game when the girl said aloud: "Which one is Dave Sexton?"

No answer came from three red faces.

DANISH REQUEST

PLEASE could I contact through your programme a Chelsea supporter, who would like a pen-pal in Denmark?

I am a 17-year-old boy, who thinks that Chelsea are the finest team in the whole world.
